

LATERAL LISP

This happens when the tongue blade touches the palate and the sides of the tongue are directed downward...

...allowing for airflow to escape over the sides of the tongue, resulting in a lateral distortion.